

Center for Urban Renewal
and Education

Center for Urban Renewal
and Education
1317 F Street NW, 8th Floor
Washington, DC. 20004

For immediate release;
May 24, 2022

Contact: \(media@curepolicy.org\)
(202) 479-2873

CURE Partners with Encounter Books on The State of Black America

Washington, D.C. - This month, in partnership with Encounter Books, CURE is releasing a new book titled The State of Black America. In the chaos of misinformation and misunderstandings over race in this country, it is increasingly difficult to find a fair assessment on the state of black Americans. To those obsessed with race, the principles of the founding have gotten lost in the noise.

CURE believes it is imperative to have honest conversations about race in America in order to return this country to civility and prosperity. The State of Black America, a new collection of scholarly and powerful essays, is a new and monumental work that addresses this ongoing challenge.

This compilation of essays seeks to restore careful and sound thinking to the discourse surrounding black America, developed by a consortium of scholars who can confront our nation's troubled racial history while preserving the promise of America's heritage—and its ability to uplift all communities, in any state.

Together, these essays illustrate an important truth—the story of black America's astounding success in integrating into mainstream American culture, and the necessity for black American patriotism as the true remedy for the community's lasting problems.

The State of Black America will be available for public release beginning next week. Claim your exclusive pre-order today from our friends at Encounter Books.

CURE is a policy and research center dedicated to fighting poverty and restoring dignity through messages of faith, freedom and personal responsibility. CURE seeks free-market solutions to provide education, employment, healthcare and the opportunity for black families to grow and their communities to flourish.

For more information on the book, reach out to media@curepolicy.org.

##